Create your most empathic heritage months. Book Black History Month, Pride Month & AAPI Month with Empathable

Book by Feb 1st to receive this special 40% discount, described below.

Offer your ERGs and teams an authentically refreshing approach to heritage months.

Why Empathable?

Empathy is hard to learn, but easy to experience. Through real immersive perspectives from real organizational communities, Empathable brings empathy and heritage month celebration to life with relational skills that organizations can apply.

Book a single 60–90 minute session for $5,000 $3,000 or three sessions for only $12,000 $7,000.

Our clients include:

"This was by far the best session we've ever had! It allowed me to reflect inward about how I display empathy to others. Celebrating and recognizing others through immersive experiences was both special and unique."

What our clients say:

"I appreciated not just the content, but how it was delivered. The facilitator was an incredibly effective communicator over Zoom - his pace and tone really got me to slow down and deeply process what we were learning." "As leaders, Empathable brought us closer together with our teams. They did a great job balancing theoretical ideas of practicing empathy with actionable steps we could use in the real-world. It felt less like a training, more like discussing a series we all enjoy."

Choose your learning area and experience a preview here or email us at Cheyenne@empathable.com

Empathable's CEO: Micah J. Wonjoon Kessel

As CEO of Empathable, Micah has led experiential learning sessions and keynotes on empathy for leaders and teams at META, Deloitte, Target, and Cisco. Micah is a Byron Fellow, Templeton World Foundation grant recipient in Human Flourishing, practitioner at The Center for the Science of Moral Understanding, and has designed Empathable with top researchers in the areas of empathy, bias, and emotions science.